When the Frost is on the Punkin

By James Whitcomb Riley

When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock,
And you hear the kyouck and gobble of the struttin' turkey-cock,
And the clackin' of the guineys, and the cluckin' of the hens,
And the rooster's hallylooyer as he tiptoes on the fence;
O, it's then's the times a feller is a-feelin' at his best,
With the risin' sun to greet him from a night of peaceful rest,
As he leaves the house, bareheaded, and goes out to feed the stock,
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

They's something kindo' harty-like about the atmufere
When the heat of summer's over and the coolin' fall is here—
Of course we miss the flowers, and the blossums on the trees,
And the mumble of the hummin'-birds and buzzin' of the bees;
But the air's so appetizin'; and the landscape through the haze
Of a crisp and sunny morning of the airly autumn days
Is a pictur' that no painter has the colorin' to mock—
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

The husky, rusty russel of the tossels of the corn,
And the raspin' of the tangled leaves, as golden as the morn;
The stubble in the furries—kindo' lonesome-like, but still
A-preachin' sermons to us of the barns they growed to fill;
The strawstack in the medder, and the reaper in the shed;
The hosses in theyr stalls below—the clover over-head!—
O, it sets my hart a-clickin' like the tickin' of a clock,
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock!

Then your apples all is gethered, and the ones a feller keeps
Is poured around the celler-floor in red and yeller heaps;
And your cider-makin' 's over, and your wimmern-folks is through
With their mince and apple-butter, and theyr souse and sausage, too! ...
I don't know how to tell it—but ef sich a thing could be
As the Angels wantin' boardin', and they'd call around on me—
I'd want to 'commodate 'em—all the whole-indurin' flock—
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock!

CAMPUS PROGRAMS

A Visit with James Whitcomb Riley

Monday, October 6, 1:30 pm
Foundation Hall

In character as Riley, Danny Russel shares insights into the poet's life, from his youth in Greenfield, Indiana, to his rise as a nationally renowned literary figure. He recites some of Riley's most beloved works, such as "The Raggedy Man" and "Little Orphan Annie," captivating audiences with his lively and engaging performances.

Estate Planning with BMO

Tuesday, October 7, 1:30 pm
Foundation Hall

Jennifer Rozelle is an attorney and co-owner of Indiana Estate & Elder Law. She is an expert at making complex estate planning and elder law topics accessible. Topics in this presentation include the fundamentals of estate planning, protecting an estate from probate court and long-term care costs and drafting healthcare directives.

Steel Petals in Concert

Wednesday, October 8, 7:00 pm
Foundation Hall

Indianapolis-based folk, indie, and Americana band is led by Tim Wright, Cat Federspiel, and Jenn Moe. The trio's core strength lies in their exceptional vocal chemistry. Enjoy a performance driven by rich, layered melodies that will draw you in from the very first note.

Indy Art Center presents a Creative Collage Experience

Thursday, October 16, 2:00 pm
Lower-Level Craft Room

Discover the art of collage in this creative workshop for all skill levels. Using paper, magazines and various tools, you'll learn techniques for creating layered, expressive compositions. No experience needed, and all materials provided! Registration required. 12 spots available.

Forward Motion Concert

Monday, October 20, 7:00 pm
Foundation Hall

For nearly a decade in Indianapolis, Forward Motion has advocated for the creation of new works by presenting innovative performances in a variety of spaces. The ensemble is excited to bring a concert that features a mixture of classical, jazz-adjacent and modern instrumental music for clarinet, flute, and piano.

Papel Picado Class

Tuesday, October 21, 1:30 pm
Lower-Level Craft Room

Attendees will gather to learn the traditional Mexican folk art of papel picado with contemporary papercutting artist Beatriz Vasquez. Vasquez, a self-taught master of the craft has guided participants through the intricate process of creating detailed designs by hand. Registration required. 12 spots available.

Story Telling Arts of Indiana presents Scary Stories

Wednesday, October 22, 7:00 pm
Foundation Hall

As Halloween draws near, embrace the chilling.

Prepare to be spooked right into the holiday as talented storytellers take the stage to spin classic ghost stories and spine-tingling original tales.

The Zyromski Band

Thursday, October 23rd, 7:00 pm
Foundation Hall

Welcome back Nick Zyromski, son of residents Bob and Page Zyromski. This time he is bringing his band that is well-known in the Indianapolis area for its diverse sound rooted in blues, folk, Americana and jazz.

Halloween Cookie Decorating

Friday, October 24, at 1:30 pm
Lower-Level Craft Room

The Treat Boutique's Halloween cookie decorating class will treat you to a hands-on and festive experience. The class will guide participants in creating beautifully decorated, custom royal-iced cookies with a spooky theme. Registration required. 12 spots available.

Clare Longendyke in Concert

Wednesday, October 29, 7:00 pm
Foundation Hall

We are excited to welcome back Clare Longendyke. This pianist will captivate residents with a performance both masterfully executed and thoughtfully curated. Longendyke's concerts are known for blending the familiar with works from underrepresented composers.
